Pickleball	Pickleball is a passion of mine. I play in leagues, drill, take lessons, and, along with a few buddies, have taught over 50 people how to play the game as part of team building. If I could pay my bills with pickleball, I would.
Learning	I have been a lifelong learner. I have over 250 college credit hours. I love taking Udemy courses and I am curious about all DIY things around my house. I have even rebuilt the front end suspension on my truck! One of my next projects will be replacing the entire engine in my truck.
Ballroom Dancing	This is something new I am trying. I am learning the Waltz, Two-step, Triple-Two, Foxtrot, and the Rumba. My biggest struggle is identifying which dance goes with which songs. I don't have much of an ear for it, but I am slowly getting better at it.
Homemade wine and candles	Like I said, I am curious about everything. I made my own Super Tuscan wine and have dabbled in making candles to give as gifts.
